

UK Medical Applicant Cohort Study

Win up to £500 in Amazon vouchers by filling in surveys for an academic research study about medical school admissions.

How to take part: When you register for your UCAT test, you will be asked if UCAT can send your contact details to the research team to invite you to take part. Select YES and the research team will send you more information and a link to the survey.

The UK Medical Applicant Cohort Study aims to help future applicants from all backgrounds apply to medical school.

Taking part will not affect your medical school application, but you may find it helpful to reflect on the application process.

The UK Medical Applicant Cohort Study is funded by the National Institute for Health Research (Grant Reference Number CDF-2017-10-008). The views expressed are those of the researchers and not necessarily those of the NIHR or the Department of Health and Social Care.

The study is led by Dr Katherine Woolf at UCL Medical School. For more information see: <https://www.ucl.ac.uk/medical-school/research/uk-medical-applicant-cohort-study>
